An Aberdeen gentleman carefully questioned the optician. "What number must I wear after these cease to be strong enough?" "This one," said the optician, showing him another pair. "And after that?" "This." "And after that?" "After that! after that! You'll need a little dog and a string!"

"Well, I just want you to understand that if the Lord keeps on taking them I will, too," was the reply with which a Galvestonian lately met her pastor's rebuke on entering into holy matrimony with No. 5 so soon after No. 4 had been placed in his coffin.

A foreigner in New York this season says that the revelation of feminine charms at balls and parties seems to keep pace with years. The blooming debutante is, ordinarily, fairly well covered, while the sprightly sexagenarian seems utterly regardless of cold.

The passage over the straits of Mackinac, Mich., is to be made by railroad trains on a powerful iron steamer, capable of carrying eighteen cars at once, and crashing its way through ice a foot thick. During the season of thicker ice, tracks will be laid on the frozen surface.

The experiment of irrigating lands in the neighborhood of Paris with water from the sewers is said to be working successfully. Sterile tracts of land have been converted into fertile plains, while no increase of sickness among the inhabitants has followed, as was apprehended.

At a Land League meeting in Ireland the other day an impassioned speaker was thus declaiming: "Our Creator gave the land to man for his own. He gave it first to Adam—" "Arab, be silent about Adam," interrupted a voice from the crowd; "Adam was evicted without compensation."

The conflict of races and languages in the Austrian empire is triangular, being shared with equal intensity by Germans, Hungarians and Bohemians. In Hungary it cost a bitter struggle to obtain a license for a theatre where performances may be conducted in German, while in Bohemia village authorities refuse to recognize the Teutonic tongue in official communications. Still, the German is steadily encroaching upon his rivals.

In South Africa ostriches cost as much as carriage horses do here. At a recent sale, we are told, the chief attraction centred in the ostriches, which were in good condition. The following list speaks for itself: One pair ostriches for $175; do., $160; do., $155; do., $150; do., $150; do., $145; do., $145; do., $130; do., $100; do., $95; do., $95. Fifty-five young birds, with and without plumage, sold in lot for $30 each; nine do. at $29 each; six pairs camping birds at $75 per pair.

Australia Overrun With Wild Horses.

The mustang of the American continent has its counterpart in the "brumby" of Australia, large herds of which exist in the interior parts of Queensland and New South Wales. These animals are so numerous that they have often been destroyed and boiled down for the sake of their tallow and hides; and in some of the newly settled districts they swarm in such numbers that the squatters have to protect themselves and the pasturage against their inroads. Brumby stalking is a recognized pastime, the destruction of the wild horses being as necessary as the destruction of kangaroos or rabbits. The sport of capturing and taming these animals, however, has attracted a good many adventurous spirits, who adopt tactics somewhat similar to those adopted by the inhabitants of Mexico and South America. The hardness and strength and size of these brumbies are remarkable, and when trained they are of considerable value. Their progeny, when crossed with European horses, possess excellent qualities. It is recorded that in one year no less than 7,000 wild horses have been shot on a single station in New South Wales.

Methodist Ministers on Faith and Healing.

The Methodist ministers of the Springfield district of Massachusetts, in their annual meeting, had a lively two hours' discussion on faith and healing. Several of the clergymen held that prayer was effectual in healing the sick, but the majority of the speakers believed that such cures were wholly the result of imagination and will. The Rev. Frederic Woods said that it would be as sensible for him to ask God for $50,000 as for a sick man to pray for restoration to health. His theory was that God did not interfere in temporal matters at all, but only in things concerning the soul. A layman replied that he had been comforted in the past by the preaching of Mr. Woods, but what he had heard on this occasion about the uselessness of prayer greatly shook his faith.

The Wealth of Wood Around Puget Sound.

The fir tree growths of Puget Sound form one of the wonders of the American world. They average 200 feet in height, and some specimens have been cut that measured 320 feet in length, and 12 feet in diameter at the base, with a straight and well proportioned log length of ninety feet to the first limb. The cedar trees are in like proportion, and are most valuable for wooden wares of all kinds, while the firs are the best for spar and ship timber yet found in any country. There are few nations that do not use them in ship-building. One-fourth of the wealth of San Francisco was culled from the firs of Puget Sound while the Government slept, and to-day all the principal steam mill owners who saw and prepare for market from 100 to 200,000 feet a day to each mill—and there are thirty or more mills—are residents of San Francisco, where they invest their profits, to the great injury of residents of the Sound. There is, apparently, no exhaustion of the timber, and a century will probably elapse before Puget Sound forests will be cleared of their immense resources of varied tree growths.

Weighed With the Other Hogs.

From the Louisville Courier-Journal. George Howard, of the city market, purchased a load of fat, live hogs from an alleged honest old granger, on Wednesday, and sent the owner around to Benton's scales to have them weighed. The granger had a high bed top, and Benton did not trouble himself to look into the wagon to see if the farmer had any truck secreted in the bed of the wagon. When the farmer drove around the corner, fat man, weighing a couple of hundred pounds, was seen to jump out of the wagon and scamper off. He had been weighed with the loaded wagon, and was a part of the hogs.

A Horse Story.

Original Source Unknown.

A horse at Fairbault, Minn., turned loose in his master's dooryard, saw a basket hanging on a clothes pole, about seven feet from the ground. It contained a pet cat, belonging to the place. The horse walked over to the basket, put his nose up to investigate, and the cat put out her paw and gave the intruding nose a lively scratch. The horse turned around, looked over his shoulder as though to take aim and measure the distance, kicked, and cat, basket and all shot into the air like a rocket. The horse watched the success of his shot, then with a low whinny of delight, walked away to feed.

UNCLE SAM AND RUTHERFORD.

"Good morning, Rutherford," said Uncle Sam as he walked into the office this morning. "I believe your time is out to-day," he continued, as he seated himself comfortably and lit a cigar. "Have you drawn your pay?"

R. B. H.—All drawn, Sir.
U. S.—Has the new Ohio man come to take your place?

R. B. H.—He's here, Sir.

U. S.—Well, how are the office accounts?

R. B. H.—Never in a better state, Sir. We've been paying off that old score very fast. Since I came in, the principal has been reduced about $110,000,000, and the interest about $30,000,000.

U. S.—Clarks behaving well?

R. B. H.—Never better, Sir. There are a hundred thousand of them, all honest and efficient, I believe.

U. S.—How's business?

R. B. H.—Looking up all round, and railroad building ever; where.

U. S.—People satisfied?

R. B. H.—Entirely so. Peace everywhere throughout the country.

U. S.—Any foreign fellows treading on the flag anywhere?

R. B. H.—Not any.

U. S.—No question about this new man's election?

R. B. H.—None whatever. Our party gained 37,000 votes in New York last November. That's what settled it.

U. S.—The boys must have been pretty well satisfied with your management, Rutherford?

R. B. H.—I hope so, Sir.

U. S.—Well, well, Rutherford, you've done pretty well, after all. Going back to the Presidential State, I suppose?

R. B. H.—Pretty soon, Sir.

U. S.—Have something to drink before you start?

R. B. H.—Thank you. Now I'm going. I might take a little rum with some lemonade in it—I mean a little rum with some rum—ah—that is, a little lemon—

U. S.—Come on then, my boy. Exit, arm in arm.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The fastest iceboat time was made on the Shrewsbury river, New Jersey, last week. The race is thus reported: "Just before the race was called the owners of the Shadow, the champion of the South Shrewsbury Club, challenged any boat of the North Shrewsbury Club to a race of twenty miles for $100 a side. The challenge was accepted and the Breeze was entered to contend with the Shadow. The Breeze crossed the line at 3:18:30, the Shadow following 5 seconds later, after an exciting race. The Breeze won in the extraordinary time of 30m. 12s. The Shadow's time was 33m. 28s. In the subscription race, the Shadow, Breeze, Soud, Snowflake and Meda entered. Although the time of the other race was extraordinary, this eclipsed it. The Soud won in 29m. 6s., the Breeze being second in 32m. 50s., the Shadow third in 30m. 12s., and the Meda fourth in 30m. 56s. The Breeze in this race carried less sail than any other boat."

The Egyptian obelisk was officially presented to the city of New York last week, with imposing ceremonies. Secretary Evarts made the address. He said that the genius of the obelisk is "the faculty of staying where it is put." The obelisk was originally erected at Alexandria twenty years before the birth of Christ. The total cost of removing the stone to New York and setting it up was $108,576. The hieroglyphics are nothing but titles of King Thothmes III, who was called "The Strong Bull," "The Son of the Sun," "Chastiser of Foreign Nations," etc. The list of them as translated bears a strong resemblance to the language of some of the Psalms of David.

The S. F. Exchange publishes a long poem by Dan O'Connell, in which the writer describes his search for the devil. He looked in vain for the devil in a club room, where such expressions abounded as "the devil's in the cards," "the devil's in the beer," "the devil's in the dice." The verses end as follows:

"But no devil did the cubes show, so to Kearsy street I wandered.
And on a misty crossing—your attention let me beg—
I saw a woman tripping, her petticoats well lifted
And a sweet leg in a stocking—and the 'devil' was in the leg."

The ice ring is broken. The combination that has held up the price for two years has been dissolved, and the result will be a hard, and probably long war. The big companies have been carrying a good deal of dead weight in the shape of small companies, whose ice they have bought to keep it out of the market. These will have to make their own sales hereafter, and sink or swim, as they can.

The Greenville Bulletin adorns a marriage notice with this glowing imagery: "We wish the happy pair many long and prosperous years, and may the rugged stream of life be tempered with the silver oars of a bright and shining love, whose brilliancy in this life may be but a weak emblem of that golden bloom which shall light them in the golden ages of eternity."

So Blaine is Secretary of State. Well, well. What lying there has been! He is the most distinguished member of the new Cabinet. The other members are generally well known, and seem to have been selected with regard to geographical considerations, excepting that the Pacific Coast is not represented.

The horny-handed agricultural editors of the Bulletin, the Alta and the Rural Press, are beginning to give seasonal advice to the honest farmer as to what crops he had better sow, how to put the seed in, etc. The California farmer would find it hard to get along without the editors.

Goy, Kinkadee deserves great credit for vetoing the Bullion Tax Penalties bill, one of the most disgraceful pieces of political jobbery ever attempted in this State. The Governor was elected partially on this issue, and he has honorably fulfilled his pledges.

There is an annual sale in San Francisco of 200,000 deer skins. W. B. Sumner & Co. handled 80,000 in 1880. There must be many skins that never reach the market. The annual slaughter of deer is probably a quarter of a million.

London Truth says that ideas can not flow freely when the waist is squeezed. This is a general truth, but there are exceptions to it, as most young ladies of experience know.

The Post publishes a San Francisco rumor to the effect that there is likely to be some dispute between Alta and Overman for the possession of mining ground.

Much of Sacramento is still under water. It looks like Omaha did when the wandering bard wrote:
"Where the ships are all aground,
And the houses all adrift."

The storm which prevailed in Washington this morning was predicted by the Signal Service yesterday.

Another Story About Carlyle.

He walked a great deal in order to make his dyspeptic stomach a little reasonable. But sometimes when the great, homely and grizzled old man was walking, with his big eyebrows almost showing from under the brim of his slouch hat, and his long, old-fashioned coat almost sweeping the sidewalk, he would stop and pick up a bit of cast-off bread from the street and place it on the curbstone, so that some poor man who came along might find it.

Never Held a Horse by the Leg.

John Maledon's team ran away in Virginia City, and he was dragged from his seat, falling before the wheels. He seized a hind leg of one of the horses and held on. The horses kept running, and kicked as they ran. The man was dragged 200 feet before the horses were stopped, was frightfully bruised, and sustained severe internal injuries, from which he is likely to die.

A coal discovery has been made fifteen miles east of Saddle Mountain District, and seventy miles north of Tucson, Arizona. The coal field, as far as prospected, is six miles long and over one-half mile wide. The coal is semi-bituminous, without a trace of sulphur. Surrounding it is a formation of sandstone and slate. It is found in dipping veins, the widest of which is twenty-six feet.

ROUND ABOUT.

Charles Lamb was once asked how he liked children, and replied that he liked them best "b-b-boiled."

An Indian boy, 12 years old, was in Lewiston, Idaho, last week, who measured three feet around the waist and weighed 135 pounds.

A Red Bluff lady was struck in the face by a shot from a boy's rubber sling lately. It is thought that a permanent scar will remain.

According to the Washington Republican, when a young man in Texas goes back on the girl to whom he is engaged, they suspend him to a tree and let him grow up with the country.

Miss May N. Hawley died at Columbia Hill, Nevada county, on Wednesday, of consumption, in her twenty-sixth year, after an illness of some months. She wrote one of the Call's prize stories a few years ago, and was a frequent contributor of both prose and poetry to the leading journals of the coast and to various magazines.

CLOSE OF THE SESSION.

The Fate of Various Important Bills in the Legislature.

The Nevada Legislature closed its labors last night at twelve o'clock. There was, as a matter of course, a press of business to dispose of. The following were some of the important proceedings of the last twenty-four hours of the session.

The bill to repeal the Salary Act was killed in the Senate. The Act remains in force, except as may be modified by the passage of bills whose operation is limited to single counties. A bill affecting the salaries of Washoe county officials was introduced by Senator Powning on Wednesday, but its fate has not been ascertained.

The State Fair bill failed to receive a constitutional majority of 26 in the Assembly; the vote for it being 24. Senator Schooling's bill for the preservation of fish, with some amendments, passed in both branches.

The Bullion Tax Penalties bill, releasing Comstock mining companies from the obligation to pay $77,000 due as delinquent fees on bullion taxes, was vetoed by the Governor. He gave as a reason that the matter should be left with the Courts for settlement, and was something with which the Legislature had properly nothing to do.

Havenor's Bank bill was lost in the Senate. The concurrent resolution favoring the adoption of an amendment to the Constitution, so as to give women the right of suffrage, was voted down in the Senate.

The Senate bill providing for the appointment of a State Board of Equalization was lost in the Assembly.

The apportionment bill reducing the number of members of the Legislature from 75 to 60 passed both Houses.

Senator Powning gave notice, at a late hour last night, of his intention to introduce at the next session a bill to provide for the removal of the State Prison to Reno.

Speaker Merrill was presented with a cane. Gov. Kinkead gave a reception, and made an address to the legislators.

A Great Poker Game at Pizen Switch.

The Virginia Chronicle says: Arad Howe and Jack Ralls, two Sacramento gamblers, went out too Pizen Switch last week to get a game of poker, it being known that some of what the initiated call the "best blooded buffers" in the land were living in that locality. On the second night they had "Old Woodon-legged Bill," a local card-player, "set in" against them, and succeeded in breaking him. Then he pulled off his wooden leg, which is very valuable, and pawned it to them for $100, which he also lost. The next night he "dug up" and paid for his leg, after which he resumed the play, and before morning he had cornered the most of the money on the table. Mason Valley, we may say with pride, produces game stock.

N. & O. R. R.

The men that have been at work on the Nevada and Oregon railroad, on sub-contracts let by Col. Moore, still remain in an expectant attitude as regards their pay. The company have decided to throw up the contract with Col. Moore unless he puts in an appearance very soon. There are parties ready to go right on with the work in the event of Col. Moore's failure to do so.

Divorced.

Judge King has granted Fannie Lovette a decree of divorce from John J. Lovette, on the ground of failure to provide.

Coal in Plumas County.

Says the Greenville Bulletin: "J. L. Davis, of Bidwell's Bridge, Big Meadows, called on Monday, and was quite elated over the discovery by him of what appears to be a rich vein of coal. It is situated in the cut through which the water flows for draining the meadows, about a quarter of a mile beyond Bidwell's Bridge, on the road to Prattville. From his description, we judge it to be of the kind known as brown coal, or lignite, as it shows marks of the wood or grass roots in its texture or formation. Mr. Davis has located his claim and proposes to commence work at once, and ascertain what he has. The claim is about twelve miles from Greenville, over a good road."

The Approaching Spring Nuisance.

The time of year is approaching when men are obliged to submit to the periodic nuisance of house-cleaning, painting, papering, and so forth; a course of proceeding dear to the feminine heart, though inflicting woes innumerable on the men. It is mentioned with regret that C. A. Loomis has just received 4,000 rolls of room paper in new and captivating styles. There isn't a woman in town who, after seeing this new stock, will not think it absolutely necessary to paper at least one room, and one of the excuses will be that Loomis' papers are "so cheap."

A Friend of Nevada.

Says the Salt Lake Tribune: "Eastern people are worrying themselves unnecessarily about the State of Nevada. Nevada does not owe the East anything, while the East owes Nevada a great deal. Nevada is out of debt; her credit is better than that of the State of New York; she buys from the Eastern States and California more than four times as much as the same population in any other State does, and does not seek to trade anything she has for anything she wants, except gold and silver. Eastern people need not worry about Nevada."

Small-pox in Virginia Again.

J. D. Cohn, in Virginia, suffered for several days from headache. Then the doctors discovered he had small-pox. No one knows how he got the disease. Yesterday afternoon the patient was delirious and escaped from his room, walking through the streets until he was recognized and captured. The symptoms were very grave at last accounts, the rash having secluded itself somewhere in his system and refusing to come out.

A Prisoner's Ugly Weapon.

Wm. Cameron, a prisoner in the Storey county jail, possessed himself of a case knife and converted it into a formidable weapon which he probably intended to use on the jailer. He gave it a sharp point, a razor edge, and a wire-wound handle. The jailer was lucky enough to find the knife, before the prisoner had an opportunity to use it. Now the prisoner is not entrusted with a case knife, and has to eat his pie with a fork.

Crown Marshall.

J. Schooling is agent for Crown Marshall whiskey. It is supposed to be a little the best article that ever came into the Great Basin. Mr. Schooling is prepared to furnish this luxury in any quantity desired, and at a price that will place it within the reach of all.

Pub. Docs. for Everybody.

Congressman Daggett has sent 100 pub. docs. to Postmaster Jamison for distribution to parties who may apply for them. The documents include Agricultural Reports and Reports on Diseases of Domestic Animals. Farmers and stock-raisers will find these documents of value.

Resumption of Pumping.

The main line of pumps at the Hale and Norcross mine was started up yesterday afternoon, about 2:30 o'clock. The pumps were started up slowly, and the number of strokes per minute will gradually be increased as the apparatus becomes warmed up to its work.

The New Book Store.

E. A. Allen opened his book store for business to-day. He has a fine new stock, which will make an attractive display when fully opened out. He calls special attention to his stock of blank books, which will be found large and comprehensive.

Section 2. That whenever a new State is admitted into the Union the Representative or Representatives assigned to it shall be additional to the number of 319 herein provided for.

Temperance Excitement at Merced.

MERCED, March 3. The Dutcher-Watson temperance excitement is running very high. Mrs. Watson addressed an immense audience here last night, and added a long list of names to the White Ribbon Association. At the close of her lecture the lady, at the head of about 300 of the young ladies and gentlemen of the Association, met Mr. Dutcher at the El Capitan Hotel, who arrived on the passenger train in company with the Pacific Coast Coaching Club, and gave him a most flattering reception. Mr. Dutcher speaks here to-night.

America a Help for the Boers.

New York, March 3. The Herald says: "Several movements are on foot in this city to help the Boers in their struggle with the English. Money is being raised by subscription, and an effort is to be made at once to establish a line of steamers from this port to the nearest port of the Boers. One of the most prominent men in America has been invited to preside at the coming mass meeting of the Hollanders at Cooper Institute. Numbers of volunteers are said to be waiting for transportation to the scene of war to join the army of the Republic."

The Outgoing Administration.

WASHINGTON, March 3. A special Cabinet meeting was held to-day, the last of the present Administration. It was devoted principally to the consideration of unfinished business.

This afternoon all the family vacated the Executive Mansion excepting the President and Mrs. Hayes. They remain until to-morrow. The Executive Department closed early to-day. No business was transacted after 12 o'clock in the War and Navy Departments.

President Garfield's Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, March 3. The Cabinet is fixed as follows: Blaine, Secretary of State; Windom, Secretary of the Treasury; Robert Lincoln, Secretary of War; Levi P. Morton of New York, Secretary of the Navy; S. J. Kirkwood of Iowa, Secretary of the Interior; William H. Hunt of the Court of Claims from Louisiana, Postmaster General; Wayne McVeagh of Pennsylvania, Attorney-General. The new Cabinet represents all the elements warring at the Chicago Convention.

Great Storm in the East.

CHICAGO, March 3. The worst storm of the season began yesterday, and still continues throughout Wisconsin, Iowa and Illinois, interdicting traffic in the cities and blocking the already almost impassable railroads. Trains on nearly all the roads have been suspended until the storm ceases, of which there is no present sign.

Opposed to the War.

LONDON, March 3. At the meeting of the Radicals yesterday, Wilfrid Lawson presiding, it was decided to hold meetings in England and Scotland to protest against the continuance of the war in the Transvaal, and to send a memorial to Gladstone reminding him of his Midlothian speeches on the subject.

Another Pedestrian Contest.

MARYSVILLE, March 3. A fifty-hours go-as-you-please pedestrian match between J. P. Eaton, of Red Bluff, and S. J. Murdock, of this city, for $250 a side, was begun at 8:10 this evening, to conclude on Saturday evening at 10:30. Both contestants hold medals, won in San Francisco, on January 4, 1890.

Hard Winter in Washington Territory.

PORTLAND, March 3. From a gentleman who arrived to-day from Yakima City, W. T., it is learned that snow was still lying deep in that locality a week ago. He is of the opinion that about 60 per cent of all the stock in that part of the country has perished.

Affairs in Ireland.

DUBLIN, March 3. Dillon says the statement that the Land League is breaking up is untrue. A telegram from Cork says: "The authorities are in possession of information that some 2,000 Fenians are now there, and secret drilling is going on."

Explosion of Powder Mills Near Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4. A heavy explosion shook buildings in this city about five minutes before ten this morning. The Oakland office reports that the Eureka Powder Mills, about six miles from Oakland, have blown up.

SECOND DISPATCH.

The Eureka Powder Works explosion occurred in the drying and cartridge room. The former had 1,000 pounds of powder and the latter between 200 and 300 pounds of cartridges. Twenty men were employed about the works; all Chinamen excepting five. Twelve were making cartridges when the explosion occurred in that room. Immediately after the powder house went up.

It is not yet known how many were killed. The powder was a new patent, the basis of which is picric acid, invented by Dr. Tschoner, who was superintendent of the works, and is thought to be killed.

The works were located at Cedar Station, 8 miles from Oakland.

THIRD DISPATCH.—P. M.

By the explosion this morning two Chinamen were killed and five wounded; and two white men were wounded.

Stormy Weather at Washington—The City Full of Visitors.

WASHINGTON, March 4. It rained and snowed at intervals all last night, and at 9 a. m. to-day was snowing rapidly, but at this hour—10 o'clock—the clouds are working away and the sun is shining. All Washington was out at an early hour, notwithstanding the storm, and men, women and children were hurrying through the snow and slush from every direction, all intent on reaching Pennsylvania avenue to witness the inaugural procession, or to the Capitol to see the ceremonies to take place there. During the entire night trains loaded with military and civilians arrived, and throughout the morning continued to pour their living freight into the streets of the city. Stands erected at various points are capable of seating 25,000 people, and every seat has been sold. It is estimated that 50,000 strangers are in the city.

Whipple's Railroad Bill Passed.

SACRAMENTO, March 4. In the Senate, Whipple's railroad bill as amended was read. Wendell moved its indefinite postponement. The motion was lost; yeas, 14; nays 25. On the final passage the vote stood: Yeas, 25; nays, 13. Hill moved to amend the title by inserting "an act to allow railroad companies in California to go free of taxation." The Chair ruled it out of order.

Clematshaw on the Stand.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4. In the Killoch case to-day Clematshaw was cross-examined. He maintained the story of direct examination, and said further that De Young fired the first shot from a derringer pistol.
